

Vote Yes on Proposition 4 California Fair Elections Act

Elections Should Be Won, Not Bought

The amount of money in politics is outrageous. It's corrupting our democracy. Since 2020, over $1 billion has been spent on state candidates alone. Prop 4 will allow public funding of campaigns to:

- Stop corporations & billionaires from buying elections. Make elections about ideas, not money.
- Empower voters, not big donors so good candidates can run and win even against corporate money.

Proposition 4 lifts the prohibition against public funding of campaigns in California so any city, county, or the state can pass public financing to empower voters and let candidates compete against billionaires.

"What it allows is the amplification of the voice of ordinary New Yorkers, as opposed to the billionaires who have grown used to buying our elections."

New York Mayor Zohran Mamdani on public funding
Elected using New York City's public financing system

"Prop 4 lets California communities change the way we finance campaigns by setting up public financing systems to empower voters rather than billionaires and corporate special interests."

Jenny Farrell, Executive Director
League of Women Voters of California
